Opis produktu

Each Shrine of Dark Tribute is a locus for sorcerous energy, collecting and imparting that power to those with the knowledge and skill to harness it. They are the centre of many a twisted ritual practised by the worshippers of the Murder God.

This multipart plastic kit builds a Shrine of Dark Tribute, a faction terrain piece for your Daughters of Khaine armies in games of Warhammer Age of Sigmar. Call forth the dark blessings of Khaine in the heat of battle and make your army even more murderous. The cruel-looking bladed structure features a pool of swirling blood over a ball of mysterious energy, making it a characterful painting project and fitting centrepiece for your collection. There is a choice of icon – representing either Morathi-Khaine or Morai-Heg – for the top of the structure, and the swirling blood in the altar's basin can be replaced with trailing smoke.

This kit comprises 30 plastic components and 1 Citadel 130mm Round Base. This miniature requires assembly and is supplied unpainted
